August 10, 2022

Dear Members of the Queen of Peace School community,

I am pleased to announce that Dr. Linda Jacewich has been appointed Interim Principal of Queen of Peace School, effective August 22, 2022. Dr. Jacewich will serve in the role of interim principal while a search for the next principal of Queen of Peace School is conducted.

Dr. Jacewich is a graduate of Queen of Peace High School and a member of Queen of Peace Parish. She has over thirty years of teaching experience and was a substitute teacher at Queen of Peace on several occasions during the 2021-2022 school year. Dr. Jacewich has a bachelor's and master's degree in Elementary and Art Education from William Paterson University and a doctoral degree in Administration and Supervision from Seton Hall University.

We welcome Dr. Jacewich to Queen of Peace School and are grateful for her willingness to assume this leadership role.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to Mrs. Ellen Naughton for her caring and compassionate leadership of Queen of Peace School. Mrs. Naughton's commitment to the mission of Catholic school education is evident. She has guided the faculty and staff in ensuring that students are academically and spiritually nurtured in a safe learning environment. Her faith-filled service has touched the hearts and souls of many throughout her career. We pray for God's blessings upon her as she begins the next chapter of her life.

May the remaining weeks of summer be a time filled with rest and relaxation for you and your family.

Sincerely,

Barbara Dolan
Superintendent of Schools
